REVIEW OF MARKETS

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Stocks, Money, Exchange, Bonds, Grain, Cotton, Provisions, Etc.

New York, Nov. 8.—The stock market started off this morning on an apparently prosperous and animated career of rising prices, but before the trading had ceased this afternoon the early gains were pructically all wheel out and a level of prices lower than Monday was established. Various considerations connected with politics were in influence in the early rise. Thus the London market was encouraged by the more cheerful news from the belenguered forces in South Africa and prices of stocks were bid up in that market. The Berlin market was pleased with the report that Great Britain had decided to relinquish her claims in Samoa to Germany and one result of this mon to Germany ,and one result of this mos to Germany and one result of this was to prompt Berlin to buy some American stocks. In this country the relief from the uncertainties of election time and the hope of easier money prompted some large buying of stocks, which lifted prices at the outset. But there were large holdings by professional operators which had been bought last week in the faith that an outside demand for stocks would develop and last week in the faith that an outside demand for stocks would develop and the first hour of the trading was devoted to the selling of these holdings on a large scale to take profits. When it was seen that the buying demand was not continuing in force, the sagging tendency set in. Efforts were made to sustain prices by manipulation of special stocks, members of the iron and sheel group and the prominent high and sleel group and the prominent high priced Industrials being conspicuous. The violent break in Leather and the heavy selling of Manhattan had an unheavy selling of Manhattan had an unsettling influence on the whole market and the stiffening of the money rate and uneasiness over the future of the money market completed the discouragement of the bulls. The organized support which has pushed up Leather for several weeks seemed entirely withdrawn, and it was allowed to drop by successive stages to 28, compared with 40 at the close on Monday. A sudden rally in the closing dealings brought the price back to 31. Manhattan had risen to 111%, when the statement for the fiscal year made its appearance, showing a failure to earn the increased dividends paid on account of additional the fiscal year made its appearance, showing a failure to earn the increased dividends paid on account of additional stock by a margin of $238,360. This carried the price down to 107½, with a final recovery of only ½. The Industrials showed marked sympathy in this break, and in the level of the whole market fell below Monday, the general rally being but feeble.

The fall in sterling exchange rates was a reflection of the hardening money market here, but it gave no hope of relief by gold imports, owing to the urgent money need not only in London but at all Continental centers. There was evidence in addition of renewed pressure upon New York from interior points, New York exchange at Chicago falling from 10 cents premium to par. New York exchange at New Orleans also fell to an additional discount. The sub-treasury to-day showed a credit balance at the Clearing House of over $300,000. Hopes of relief to the New York money market from any quarter were thus dissipated and the last hour of the market saw an active liquidation of stock holdings with very little demand to meet it.

Prices of bonds were better sustained

Prices of bonds were better sustained than those of stocks, but the day's changes were mixed. Total sales, par value, $2,480,000.

U. S. new 4's and the 5's advanced 1/2 in the bid price.
The total sales of stocks were 685,000

unanimous in crediting the advance to a turn about of European spinners and shorts, effected by a decided hardening of spot cotton in the South and continued small receipts. New Orleans and other places reported exporters were hidding 3-16 cent. higher prices for supplies, but that holders were retusing to sell as a rule, pending further developments in New York and Liverpool. Leading bulls leaded up heavily on restactionary periods near the close to day, and sentiment was intensely bulls.
